KEEPING IN TOUCH:

St Paul's Cathedral is a vibrant church, a national treasure and a London icon. Designed by Sir Christopher Wren in the late 17th century, the Cathedral has been the Cathedral Church of the Diocese of London for over 1,400 years.

Our building provides a space for reflection, discovery, learning and debate. Each year, we welcome nearly two million people through our doors, to worship, sightsee, and attend a lively programme of concerts, educational events and performing arts.

We receive no regular funding from the Government, Church or Crown to look after this iconic building, and it costs over £16 million each year to keep our doors open and offer a warm welcome to everyone.

We would love to keep in touch with you to tell you more about our current and future projects and how you can support us.
